

White to cream/tan bb-shaped sclerotia and white mycelia of the white mold fungus, Athelia rolfsii

A “chimera” is a genetic aberration that produces a bleaching appearance; it does not spread and is not an economic concern.